CONTENTS

List of illustrations ix
Acknowledgements xvii
Notes on contributors xix

Materiality and Architecture: introductory remarks
Sandra Karina Löschke 1

PART I
Presentation 11

1 Exposures: Herzog & de Meuron and photography
Philip Ursprung 13

2 “Materials-in-fact”: material aesthetics and ethics in Lacaton
& Vassal’s Palais de Tokyo
Sandra Karina Löschke 27

3 Material splendour: a contribution to the critique of aesthetic economy
Gernot Böhme, translated by Anna-Christina Engels-Schwarzpaul 47

4 Materiality matters – if only for the look of it!
Gevork Hartoomain 59
PART II
Agency

5 Material antagonism: art, law and architecture in Santiago Sierra’s work
   André Bélanger and Anne Bordeleau

6 Historical materialism: the fabric of communist Yugoslavia’s architectural aspirations
   Dijana Alić

7 Material economy and aesthetic resistance: three concrete shells by Ulrich Mütter on Rügen Island
   Matthias Ludwig

PART III
Ecology

8 The immaterial and the material: an architectural dialogue in time
   Jonathan Hill

9 Playing with fragments of modernity: materiality, colour and light in the work of Melanie Smith
   Sandra Karina Löschke: An interview with Melanie Smith

10 Self-organisation and theoretical reflection: the (im)material architecture of Venice and the Venice Hospital
    Sophia Psarra

11 Baubotanik: designing with living material
    Ferdinand Ludwig

PART IV
Concepts

12 Bauspiel as immaterial investigation: avant-garde experiments with generative architectural models
   Matthew Mindrup

13 Recuperative arch...
   Michael Tawa

14 MVRDV: pragmatic...
   Sandra Karina Löschke
   MVRDV and More
13 Recuperative architectonics: matter, memory, immanence
   Michael Taura

14 MVRDV: pragmatic takes on materiality
   Sandra Karina Lüschke: An interview with Jacob van Rijs of MVRDV and Moritz Mungenast

Index

213

232

244