Section I: Design of Driver - Vehicle Systems Interaction

1. Evaluation of a contact analogue head-up display for highly automated driving
   D. Damböck, T. Weiβgerber, M. Kienle and K. Bengler, Germany
   (3)

2. Optimized combination of operating modalities and menu tasks for the interaction between driver and infotainment-system using a touchpad with haptic feedback
   A. Blattner, K. Bengler and W. Hamberger, Germany

3. A review of HMI issues experienced by early adopters of low carbon vehicles
   A. Woodcock, T. Wellings and J. Binnersley, UK

4. The error prevention effects and mechanisms of pointing
   T. Masuda, M. Shigemori, A. Sato, G. Naito, G. Chiba and S. Haga, Japan
   (30)

5. Implementation and evaluation of lane departure warning and assistance systems
   E. Johansson, E. Karlsson, C. Larsson and L. Eriksson, Sweden
   (37)

6. On learning characteristics of automotive integrated switch system using face direction
   T. Hayami, A. Murata, Y. Urakami, M. Moriwaka, S. Ueda, and A. Takahashi, Japan
   (47)

7. Focusing on drivers' opinions and road safety impact of Blind Spot Information System (BLIS)
   G. Piccinini, A. Simões and C. Rodrigues, Portugal
   (57)

8. Speed vs. acceleration advice for advisory cooperative driving
   Q. Shahab and J. Terken, The Netherlands
   (67)

9. LDW or rumble strips in unintentional lane departures: Driver acceptance and performance
   L. Eriksson, A. Bolling, T. Alm, A. Andersson, C. Ahlstrom, B. Blissing and G. Nilsson, Sweden
   (77)
10 Human factors in a compact mobile workspace: A case study of patrol vehicles
M. Sepoori and J. Hill, USA

11 Modular dashboard for flexible in car HMI testing
F. Sulzmann, V. Melcher, F. Diederichs and R. Sahar, Germany

12 Impact of feedback torque level on perceived comfort and control in steer-by-wire systems
S. Anand, J. Terken, J. Hogema and J.-B. Martens, The Netherlands

13 Automotive speech interfaces: Concepts for a better user experience
O. Tsimhoni and U. Winter, Israel, and T. Grost, USA

14 Remote target detection using an unmanned vehicle: Contribution of telepresence features
C. Jansen, The Netherlands, L. Elliott, USA, L. van Breda, The Netherlands, E. Redden and M. Barnes, USA

15 Optimizing the design of driver support: Applying human cognition as a design feature
B. van Waterschoot and M. van der Voort, The Netherlands

16 Dictating and editing short texts while driving
J. Curin, J. Kleindienst, M. Labsky and T. Macek, Czech Republic, H. Young, A. Thyme-Gobbel, L. König, H. Quast and C. Couvreur, USA

17 User adaptation in automotive environments
M. Sun and A. Rudnicky, USA, and U. Winter, Israel

18 Traffic light assistant – Evaluation of information presentation
M. Krause and K. Bengler, Germany

19 Using communication research for cultural variability in HMI design
D. Carbaugh, E. Molina-Markham and B. van Over, USA, and U. Winter, Israel

20 Language models for text messaging based on driving workload
R. Hecht, E. Tzirkel and O. Tsimhoni, Israel

21 Turn-by-turn navigation guidance for complex interactions
P. Wang, China, and O. Tsimhoni, Israel

22 Identifying customer-oriented focus on longitudinal vehicle
T. Mueller, C. Gold, A. Sahar, Germany

Section II: Distraction of the Driver

23 The role of situation awareness and distraction states
Y. Zhang and D. Kaber

24 Couples arguing while driving in face-to-face conversations
A. Stephens, Ireland, and D. Kaber

25 An on-road examination of distraction: integrated behavior in undistracted drivers
K. Young, P. Salmon

26 Driver's distraction and interaction with high-speed arterials
N. Eliou and E. Misol

Section III: Environmental Impacts

27 Evaluation of interaction and safety of electric vehicles - Results of a research experience
T. Eberl, R. Sharma, K. Grabarck and H. Glesch, Germany

28 Innovative environmental transport with particular emphasis on road transport
I. Grabarck and W. Chlebus

29 Multifactor combinations for air traffic control simulation
T. Edwards, S. Sharpe and T. Bock, France

30 Driving faster or slower? How changing speeds
G. Eriksson and O. Swahn

31 Merging navigation and a navigation assistant
C. Rommerskirchen and S. Reinert, Germany
Identifying customer-oriented key aspects of perception with focus on longitudinal vehicle dynamics
T. Mueller, C. Gold, A. Eichinger and K. Bengler, Germany

Section II: Distraction of the Driver

The role of situation awareness in classifying driver cognitive distraction states
Y. Zhang and D. Kaber, USA

Couples arguing when driving, findings from local and remote conversations
A. Stephens, Ireland, and T. Lansdown, UK

An on-road examination of the errors made by distracted and undistracted drivers
K. Young, P. Salmon and M. Cornelissen, Australia

Driver's distraction and inattention profile in typical urban high speed arterials
N. Eliou and E. Misokefalou, Greece

Section III: Environmental Impact of Vehicles

Evaluation of interaction concepts for the longitudinal dynamics of electric vehicles - Results of study focused on driving experience
T. Eberl, R. Sharma, R. Stroph, J. Schumann and A. Pruckner, Germany

Innovative environmental design in means and systems of transport with particular emphasis on the human factor
I. Grabarek and W. Choromanski, Poland

Multifactor combinations and associations with performance in an air traffic control simulation
T. Edwards, S. Sharples and J. Wilson, UK, and B. Kirwan, France

Driving faster or slower? Biased judgments of fuel consumption at changing speeds
G. Eriksson and O. Svenson, Sweden

Merging navigation and anticipation assistance for fuel-saving
C. Rommerskirchen and K. Bengler, Germany
Section IV: Integrated Transport Systems

32 The impact of an integrated transport system: An ethnographic case study of the experiences of Metrocable users in Medellin-Colombia
A. Roa-Atkinson, P. Atkinson, J. Osmond and A. Woodcock, UK

33 The multi-facetted public transport problems revealed by a small scale transport study
A. Woodcock, S. Topolavic and J. Osmond, UK

34 Identifying the information needs of users in public transport
S. Hörold, C. Mayas and H. Krömker, Germany

35 Accessibility in public transport - A psychosocial approach
F. Nickpour and P. Jordan, UK

36 Human behavior, infrastructure and transport planning
H. Frey and C. Chaloupka-Risser, Austria

Section V: International Differences in Drivers

37 Normative influences across cultures: Conceptual differences and potential confounders among drivers is Australia and China
J. Fleiter, B. Watson, A. Lennon and M. King, Australia, and K. Shi, China

38 The MINI E field study - Similarities and differences in international everyday EV driving
R. Vilimek, A. Keinath and M. Schwalm, Germany

Section VI: Investigations into Safety and Accidents

39 A critical review of the STAMP, FRAM and Accimap systemic accident analysis models
P. Underwood and P. Waterson, UK

40 Learning safety via experience-based software (SIM-ERROR)
M. Shigemori, A. Sato and T. Masuda, Japan

41 Differential and unique roles of off-road assessments to on-road safety
N. Aksan, J. Dawson, S. Anderson, E. Uc and M. Rizzo, USA
